A full-page background image of an artist's studio. A woman with long hair, wearing a white t-shirt and jeans, stands by a large window, painting on a canvas mounted on a wooden easel. The studio is filled with natural light from the window. In the foreground, there is a dark wooden workbench with various art supplies. To the left, a small white statue of a male figure stands on a pedestal. To the right, a larger white bust of a classical figure is visible. The overall atmosphere is artistic and serene.
